Shirahama is one of the best resorts in Honshu, the mainland of Japan, and bustles with more than three million tourists a year. The palm groves along the white-sand seashore and the sun-drenched summer beaches make for a tropical paradise. Both the town and beaches are always full of excitement and energy. If it's just being comforted by the soothing atmosphere of the beauty of the sea or strolling around the exquisite scenery of Senjojiki and Sandanbeki, you will discover something new to charm you about Shirahama every time you visit.

View the vast Pacific Ocean through the steam of a hot spring.

Shirahama Onsen, along with Arima Onsen and Dogo Onsen, is one of the three oldest hot springs in Japan. It boasts a history of 1350 years and is popular as a time-honored hot spring resort where many Emperors and their court followers once bathed. A number of tourists in fact visit Shirahama purely to bathe in the hot spring. Public baths can be found everywhere in the town of Shirahama. The public open air bath of "Saki no Yu," which is located right in front of the Pacific Ocean, is particularly popular with tourists. The flowing hot spring with its mild sulfur smell and saline hot water typically satisfies even the high-level hot spring connoisseur.

Bathing while viewing the sunset is yet another wonderful experience that will leave you feeling soothed and refreshed.

The Kumano Kodo consists of several different routes. One of which, "Ohechi," runs through Shirahama before extending along the coast of the Kii Peninsula from Tanabe. And while you may not see too many passers-by because of the very steep and long slopes of "Tonda-zaka" and "Hotoke-zaka," many cultural figures are said to have traveled this route because the attraction of its beautiful scenery.

Viewing the grand Kii Mountains while hiking through the woods of the ancient route will reveal to you the feel of the historical atmosphere of Shirahama, which completely differs from the atmosphere of the beach resort.

After having a rest at the site of Tonda-zaka Chaya (teahouse) you can proceed to Ago. Ago is an important area along the Ohechi Route. Many writers and artists have visited the house of the Namiki Family, who were renowned for being a doctor family of the late Edo era. The "Ago no Watashi" (ferry crossing) even now still connects Tonda-zaka and Hotoke-zaka.

Very rare classy fish-Kue 幻の高級魚一クエ

Kue-nabe (hot-pot dish) is a very popular way of eating Kue. That said, however, a variety of Kue dishes can also be enjoyed such as sashimi (raw fish), Kue-sushi, Kakiage (tempura mixed with vegetables) and Kue-don (rice topped with Kue) at the various restaurants and inns in Shirahama.

Kishu Bincho Charcoal as a souvenir

Kishu Bincho Charcoal is made of Ubame oak and burns without a flame or emitting smoke or odors, but the high-intensity infrared rays maximize the flavor of ingredients such as meat and fish. Kishu Bincho Charcoal has been designated an intangible cultural asset by Wakayama Prefecture.

Let's enjoy some tropical gourmet dishes of Shirahama!

Enjoying the local dishes can be the best part of a trip. How about studying the local food culture by actually tasting it? The special feature of the local food of Shirahama is fresh seafood from the Black Current. Kue (longtooth grouper), a very rare type of fish with white meat and a deep flavor, is particularly recommended. The tropical resort of Shirahama has a variety of unique local products. "Nanki Shirahama Nagisa Beer," which will add to the mood of your vacation, is a local brand of 100%-malt beer that is brewed with the famous "Nanki Shirahama Tonda Water" to enhance the natural flavor of the ingredients. Gobo-maki (fishcake rolls with burdock root) and Nanba-yaki (baked fishcakes) are the perfect snacks to go with the beer. Please enjoy a taste that has been created by the nature of Shirahama being surrounded by the sea and mountains and the warm hearts of the people living there.
